

Service Lifecycle

The service lifecycle is the overall framework used to identify, define, and manage IT services provided by ITS. There are three levels of service definition, each with an increasing amount of detail, documentation, and ongoing service management.

\(Back to the Service Management web site\)

