

If you wouldn't put it on your resume, don't post it online.

Many schools and employers now search the Internet for information on applicants.

Remember: Most blogs, social networking pages, and personal web pages can be easily viewed by anyone. Some information can have embarrassing or costly consequences. And it's really difficult to "take back" something you've posted online!

Cyber Security at UC Santa Cruz
http://its.ucsc.edu/security\_awareness

UC SANTA CRUZ

Information Technology Services